

E C E CA
 C C C A
 E E E P
 B H B
 O A E
 N A A
 N U T
 D M A
 O M S
 L M E
 U E M
 C E P
 E A G P
 M A T I
 M R E O
 N O
 A M

This is only the second year since 1986 that I haven't been able to design and print a Paschal candle design. The last time (2005) I was ill, this time the college was closed and there are no church services. This year's candle would have been letterpress set and printed, and something like this: the first two lines from Alexandro Striggio's motet Ecce beatam lucem of 1561 (Behold the blessed light; behold the everlasting goodness), prompted by UAL Chaplain Mark Dean and the required phrases Alpha, Omega, and 2020. The required cross would have been made solely by the incense 'pins'. ¶ The arrangement of the words follow the courses of bells 1, 4, and 6 during the ringing of Grandsire Minor.