Public Event

Peckham TV
21 June 2008 4-8pm
Peckham Square
Peckham Road
London SE15 8RS

Peckham TV marks the launch of Peckham Space's artistic programme.

Peckham TV will broadcast a live mix of public opinion in a game show format creating a collective vision for the future of Peckham. The event will feature 3D visualization and an open mic session, resulting in a grand finale where participants will vote on a new identity for the public face of Peckham.

Peckham TV is a collaborative project by the artists Harold Offeh and The People Speak. The project is the result of a period of research carried out by The Mothership Collective into the future of Peckham. During this research it was stated that 'it is not Peckham that is the problem it is the media's representation of it'.

Public Talk

Social Change / Contemporary Art?
19 June 2008 7.15pm
Wilson Road Lecture Hall
Camberwell College of Arts
University of the Arts London

Social Change / Contemporary Art?
To mark the launch of Peckham Space, the think tank Demos will be in conversation with artists Harold Offeh and The People Speak. The discussion will focus on the role of cultural production in everyday democracy, ultimately asking the question 'is social change possible through contemporary art?'.
