

Helen Storey MBE

Fashion Designer and artist. Helen Storey is a Senior Research Fellow and Professor of Fashion and Science at The London College of Fashion and Co-Director of The Fashion Science Centre. She was awarded the MBE for services to the Arts in June 2009.

Catalytic Clothing seeks to explore how clothing and textiles can be used as a catalytic surface to purify air, employing existing technology in a new way. It is the brainchild of artist/designer Helen Storey and chemist Tony Ryan – people from very different worlds whose minds have come together over recent years in highly successful art/science collaborations.

Jane Webb

Jane Webb is an artist and curator. She graduated in Glass & Fine Art at Central St Martin's in 2006. Jane has exhibited at the V&A Museum and been short listed for a number of awards. Appointed as critical writer on the international Arts Council funded project Here & There 2 and currently working on a series of books, Fashion Perspectives, to be published by Bloomsbury.

free guide

select pairings II

conversations & collaborations

28 April – 27 May 2012

www.stroudinternationaltextiles.org.uk

Stroud Five Valleys, Gloucestershire, England