

HANDING DOWN THE MEMORY CLOTH

An illustration in the top right corner shows a hand in white outline pointing towards a 'Memory Cloth'. The cloth is a rectangular piece of fabric with a repeating pattern of dark, semi-circular shapes on a lighter background, all set against a solid orange background.

An exploration into cultural identity and the role of women in craft and design history at the

Elephant & Castle

Exhibition

Tuesday 25 - Friday 28 July 2006

Opening hours: 9:00am - 6:00pm

Eckersley Gallery

London College of Communication

Tube: Northern and Bakerloo Lines

'Memory Cloth' Activity Day

Wednesday 26 July 2006, 2:00pm - 7:30pm

Join us for a 'Memory Cloth' fanzine workshop, learn more about knitting and embroidery from community groups, hear about local history from the Imperial War Museum.